Robert N. Rizzi, D.M.D.

As we enter this cool and colorful fall season, we realize that another year is yet coming to an end.

Our thoughts move forward towards the pending winter months ahead, along with all its approaching festivities.

The next few months seem to move at light speed and as year-end approaches, it is the perfect time to come in for an examination and assessment of any necessary treatment that should be completed before December 31st. If you have dental insurance, this is the time to maximize your benefits before they expire.

We would like to thank you for the continued trust you have placed in us as well as your loyalty and commitment to being a part of the best dental health care team. We look forward to continuing to serve you in the future.

Wishing you and your families a most happy and healthy holiday season!

Sincerely,

Dr. Robert Rizzi

and the Team of Cranford Family Dentistry
